

I'm very opposed to this change in regulation. By allowing larger companies to own a larger share of the market, this will ultimately hurt the consumer by reducing competition within said market.